FIRE MARSHAL BERT EMBREE is shown reading the Duties of Officers to Fire Captain Fred Wesley and Chief Inspectors Paul Powlison and Charles Hahn, while Charles Brown, Chief of the Sierra Madre Fire Department, added his charge to the Junior Officers. Under the direction of the three boys, the Junior Inspectors will conduct home inspections along their neighborhood block. Chief Brown and Marshal Embree stated that this is the type of education given to youngsters of the city that will help make them better citizens for tomorrow, while providing a small, but important, service to the community, as well as the fire department. From the experience gained as members of this group, the boys and girls will realize the importance of the prevention of fires around the home by being able to recognize possible fire hazards.

How about this . . . last week I was so sick that I thought surely I was going to die.

—CT—
The Flu Bug got ahold of me and for sure he was a stubborn bugger . . . took old Doc Peterson and his million of this and million of that, plus a couple of good lectures on the vice of smoking to put the bug on the run.

—CT—
Today I am back to work and found that it was all waiting for me . . . maybe it would have been better if I had died . . . on the other hand it would have made a couple of people that I know of too happy, and that would have been out of character for them, and would have ruined the whole week for them, and those they pester.

—CT—
You know when a person is sick, and all alone, he gets kinda tired feeling sorry for himself . . . kinda thought my old friend Rambeau would bring me up a portable TV to get my mind off things, but seems that as fast as he got one unpacked to bring up to me, someone would up and buy it.

—CT—
I was back three days before he discovered that I really wanted a portable TV to take my mind off my worries, he said it was odd that I had any worries with all the beautiful office help that I had accumulated lately.

—CT—
I noticed by the paper last week where the grocery stores are going to specialize in toys this year. On TV they say that some toys are exclusive at grocery stores . . . also see where Toy Stores are selling candy bars and gum, and specializing in children's hair cuts.

—CT—
Course long ago grocery stores entered the drug field, and druggist started selling cameras, cigarettes, cigars and the lot.

—CT—
Thursday being my light day wonder what I could take on to sell . . . television . . . n o o o . . . I could set up a flapjack stand in the front window, at least Dick King wouldn't have to go so far . . . not that he travels for flapjacks, but where there are flapjacks there is sure to be coffee and that is what Dick is after.

—CT—
On the other hand maybe I had better spend my time trying and trying to be a better newspaperman, at least I feel that if I mind my own business I will be far better off . . . can't see where it will hurt me anyway.

—CT—
Talking to a couple of my readers the other day and they seemed to think I spent an awful lot of time harping on taxes and politics.

—CT—
Really now, is there anything else to harp about . . . It really doesn't make too much difference if one is spending his time on politics, taxes, wine, women or whiskey he would still be harping to some people, and that is the way the cookie crumbles.

—CT—
I definitely do not like the way things are going politically . . . even if they were

South El Monte

Furniture Manufacturers Invite Public To Visit Factory

If you would like to see how fine Custom Furniture is made you are invited to visit Decor Custom Furniture at 9702 Alpaca St., South El Monte any day except Sunday between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

You may watch each operation starting with the hardwood frame, watch the spring up man do the springing (eight way hand tied springs), from there to the cutting tables and see how each piece is matched to the next, from there to the seamstress where the pieces are sewed together forming the body, arms, cushions and pillows.

When the seamstress is finished part of what she has put together goes to the upholsterer, where after the necessary padding is placed he then fits the covering over the inside of the frame.

Another part goes to the cushion department, here the selected type of cushion is carefully padded and placed into the cushion.

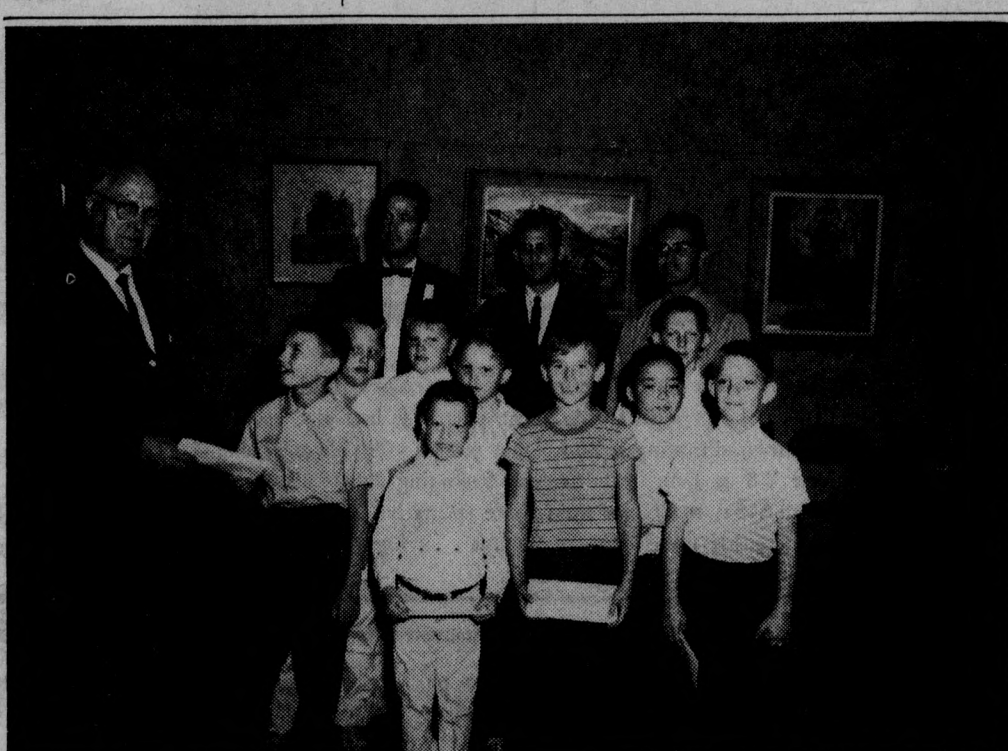

The outsider is then called, this man places the outside covering on the arms and back of the furniture. He also places casters or legs on the furniture.

At Decor Custom Furniture there are five rooms of furniture arrangements to show some of their styles. You are free to look around at any time, and if you desire any information any of the employees will be glad to help you.

NOTICE

For those who may have misinterpreted the conviction of overtime parking in the areas defined . . . the fine and jail sentence were the maximum that could be imposed.

It is seriously doubted that this extreme would ever be exercised. The nominal fine for such violation is usually $5.00, which penalty is set by the judge of the court.

SHOWN PRESENTING CREDENTIALS to the newly organized "Sparky Junior Fire Department," following the Charge of Duties Ceremony, is Mayor Severin Sorenson, with City Administrator Lawrence Bevington, Fire Chief Charles Brown, and Fire Marshal Bert Embree in the background. Junior Fire Captain Fred Wesley is receiving his packet which includes a badge, identification card, instructions and other material to help him in his duties as a fire inspector. This program was initiated by Marshal Embree, and his Prevention Bureau, of the Sierra Madre Fire Department, to help in the education of the city's children for fire prevention. The neighborhood boys and girls in this, the first group include: Fred Wesley, Captain; Charles Hahn, and Paul Powlison, Chief Inspectors; with Terri and Jerry Caldwell, Randy and Fred Cheek, Margaret Hahn, Jimmy Lavigne, John Darbyshire and Steve Williams as Inspectors. With a little help from the adult department, the youngsters will learn the fundamentals of Home Inspections so that they can help make their own neighborhood safer from fire.

Joint Meeting Between SM City Council, Planning Body

The Sierra Madre City Council and the Sierra Madre Planning Commission met Tuesday, November 5 in a joint meeting in the City Council Chambers.

Attending from the City Council were Councilmen Abernethy, Parks, Rule, Vanier and Mayor Sorenson. From the Planning Commission were Commissioners Casey, DeWright, Petz, D'Arcy, Emerson. Also present were City Administrator Bevington and Mrs. Beavers of the Sierra Madre News.

The meeting opened with general discussion as to the function of the Planning Commission as an advisory body to the City Council and the problems that confront the City Council in acting on Planning Commission recommendations. The City Council pointed out that should it overrule the action of the Planning Commission, the Commission should be aware that this is only after thorough study of the problem, including a review of the Planning Commission minutes and a public hearing.

Another item under discussion was the Parkway Controls. The consensus of this discussion will be a long-range project and it was suggested that the program be guided by a committee of members from the Police Department, Planning Commission, PTA and City Council.

Sierra Madre Canyon with its unusual terrain and lot size problems was discussed and the suggestion made that a modified uniform yard setback would have to be based on a block-to-block study, and perhaps a study of other cities with similar problems would be of help to us.

A long-range program for the betterment and improvement of Sierra Madre was discussed at some length.

Rescue Trio From Canyon

by Bill Work

While some members of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team were scouring the chilly San Jacinto slopes for a young couple missing since Saturday noon, others were busy Sunday night rescuing three Sierra Madrans who became stranded on a dangerous cliff in the mountains above Sierra Madre.

Robert Forrest of 257 N. Baldwin, his son Andy 8, and a friend Arlie Wingate 8, of 286 E. Grand View were attempting to make their way down the rugged east ridge of the Little Santa Anita Canyon when they became stranded on a narrow ledge.

The list of agencies for Sierra Madre reads as follows: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, YMCA, Toy Loan, Sierra Madre Community Nursery School, Children's Hospital, Orthopaedic Hospital, Visiting Nurses Association, Family Service, Travelers' Aid and USO.

When the volunteer workers ring your doorbell consider carefully this encompassing list. Consider the benefits, present and future, to you and your family or to

Bible Lesson 'Soul and Body' Sunday, Nov. 21

"Soul and Body" will be the subject of the Bible Lesson to be read at all Christian Science services this Sunday.

The Scriptural readings include a verse from Psalms (27:14): "Wait on the Lord: be of good courage, and He shall strengthen thine heart: wait, I say, on the Lord."

The following passage will be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The divine Mind, which forms the bud and blossom, will care for the human body, even as it clothes the lily; but let no mortal interfere with God's government by trusting in the laws of erring, human concepts" (p. 62).

Vespers With 4 Choirs Participating Bethany Church Plans Thanksgiving

Two of the Sunday School classes at Bethany Church of Sierra Madre will have Fellowship Socials this Friday, Nov. 22. They include the Ambassadors college-age group, taught by Mr. Bob Dingman with evening sponsors, Al and Laurel Leeming, and the Two-Fifteen Class, taught by Mrs. Earle Anstadt. Their socials will be held at the church premises.

Many of the members of the congregation at Bethany Church will participate in the showing of the film, "Lucia," produced and directed by Dick Ross for the Billy Graham Evangelistic Foundation. This is a true story of one woman's search for the meaning of love and was filmed in South America following the evangelistic crusade conducted by Dr. Graham in that country in the early part of 1963.

The film will be shown at the Lake Avenue Congregational Church on Friday evening, Nov. 22, at 7:30 o'clock, and then again for the convenience of the community on Tuesday, Nov. 26, also at 7:30 p.m. The church is located at 393 N. Lake Ave., Pasadena. The public is cordially invited to attend this dramatic presentation of this true story.

One of the outstanding features of the Sunday worship services at Bethany Church this weekend on Sunday, the 24th, will be the presentation of "Thanksgiving Vespers at the 7 p.m. service. All four of the choirs of the church will participate in this outstanding narrative which has been largely produced and directed by Paul and Joan Schultz, members of the church and who helped direct the outstanding musical program presented on Pentecost Sunday last spring.

This musical service will be similar to that one in that no introductions of personnel will be made but a continuous narrative depicting the praise and thanksgiving music of the church interspersed with appropriate Scripture read by various members of the choir and ministerial staff. Margaret Schaper, musical director of the church, will direct the adult Chancel and High School choirs, while Mrs. Betty Bush will direct the Junior High Girls Coronation Choir and the Junior Crusader Choir. The latter two choirs are accompanied by Mary Schaper, while the accompanist for the Chancel and Chapel Choirs, in addition to Mary Schaper, is Marilyn Richter, the church organist. A 20-piece string ensemble will accompany the choirs. This service begins at 7 in the evening and is open to all to participate.

Dr. Schaper during the worship hour at 11 a.m. on Sunday will conclude the month-long emphasis on Stewardship by preaching on the theme, "Christ Makes the Difference in Our Church." This also will be the climax of the Stewardship Challenge presented by the church at the beginning of the month in which the pledges and commitments toward the church budget will be gathered on this thanksgiving service at a great "ingathering service" during the worship hour.

The Board of Deacons approved the plan by which every member was challenged to make a pledge toward the general fund and missions fund and that a 100% cooperation on behalf of the members is desired.

Sunday, the 24th, also concludes the month-long enlargement emphasis conducted by the Sunday School under the leadership of John Kershaw, superintendent. This has been a real challenge to many of the people in the church as the theme, "Christ Makes the Difference," was used throughout the departments and classes. An added incentive was the contest with the Calvary Baptist Church of Monrovia and the percentage of increase contest is now building up until this last Sunday which will decide the winner.

The church staff at Bethany will participate in a staff retreat at Forest Home on Sunday evening, the 24th of November, and Monday, the 25th. This includes Dr. and Mrs. Robert Schaper, the Rev. Hugh Bell and his wife, Mr. Ernie Richter and his wife, Mr. Harold Ankeny and Mr. Judd Gordon. The ladies will return home with Mr. Gordon on Monday evening, the 25th, while the other four members of the staff will stay on to participate in the Revival Prayer Fellowship which is sponsoring a ministers conference at Forest Home just prior to Thanksgiving. Over 100 ministers are expected to attend this outstanding conference held annually at this Christian Retreat.

Pastor Schaper wishes once again to extend to all in the community and friends of the congregation an invitation to join in worship especially at this Thanksgiving season as the church endeavors to remind the people of the fact that they are blessed materially with so many blessings and that certainly responsibility to give praise to God for spiritual blessings should rest on each family. The church stands ready to assist in any way the spiritual needs of the community and interested people may find more by calling the church office.

Dr. Barnhart Speaks On Spirit Of Thanksgiving

Dr. William H. D. Hornaday, minister of Founder's Church of Religious Science in Los Angeles, and Dr. Mark T. Carpenter, administrator of Affiliated Churches of Religious Science, will speak Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. at the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 226 W. Colorado Blvd., Arcadia.

The occasion is an anniversary service of rededication and the groundbreaking ceremony for a new fellowship hall. Dr. Hornaday's daily radio program "This Thing Called Life" over KFI is bringing inspiration and help to thousands. On a recent round-the-world trip he spent several days with Dr. Albert Schweitzer in Africa.

Dr. Hornaday also met with officials of government in many foreign countries and had conferences with their spiritual leaders. Dr. Mark T. Carpenter, churchman, administrator and religious leader is dedicated to the religious welfare of mankind. Before uniting with Religious Science he served in Alaska and several states as minister in the Episcopal Church. This will be a great inspirational service with two well known and popular speakers. The public is cordially invited.

"The Spirit of Thanksgiving" is the sermon-topic of Dr. Ethel Barnhart Sunday morning, Nov. 24, at both the 9 and 11 a.m. worship services.

Two services of prayer, praise and thanksgiving, one a sunrise service at 6:38 a.m. and one at 10:30 a.m., will be conducted Thanksgiving Day. This is a great opportunity to bless the world, says Dr. Barnhart.

County Assessor Urges Fixed Limit

County Assessor Phil Watson today called for a fixed limit to property taxation and the end of the tax on household furnishings.

Addressing the Assembly Interim Committee on Revenue and Taxation, Watson told the legislators that excessive taxation can destroy the value of property. He urged that a 2% limit of taxes to market value be enacted into law, pointing out that such limits were already in force for taxing privately-owned airplanes and automobiles.

"Surely the homeowner is entitled to as much protection as the owner of an airplane or automobile," Watson said.

Terming the tax on household furnishings a "nuisance," Watson pointed out that it takes almost 10% of the total budget in the Assessor's Department to administer furniture assessment, but the tax return is less than 1% of the total revenue.

The Assessor also called for the establishment of a statewide, standard assessment of 25% of market value, as a protection both to the taxpayer and the Assessor against the pressure that can be brought by taxing agencies to force increases in the assessment base as a device for raising more taxes.

Watson, who had been asked by the Assembly Committee to outline what he saw as the most urgent areas for assessment and tax reform, also called for legislative clarification of the veteran exemption, a thorough study of all existing exemptions, particularly in the so-called "non-profit" category, an end to the authority of the legislature to grant "special interest" exemptions, the assessment of business inventories on the annual average rather than upon the quantity on hand on the first Monday in March, and extension of present laws empowering an Assessor to conduct post-audits of property statements.

The Assembly Committee, headed by Assemblyman Nicholas Petris, Oakland, held hearings in Los Angeles Nov. 14 and 15 to explore all aspects of property taxation.

SIERRA MADRE NEWS-3

Ida May Jameson Beloved Resident Dies At 102

Mrs. Ida May Jameson, beloved Sierra Madre resident, passed away suddenly at her home 481 W. Highland Ave. on Sunday, Nov. 17, at the age of 102. Mrs. Jameson, widow of the late J. W. Jameson, pioneer California oilman who died in 1934, was born in Canada but came to California at the age of six. She had been a resident of Sierra Madre for the past 45 years.

Remembered by all as a faithful friend and neighbor, Mrs. Jameson was also a noted philanthropist and business executive. She served as president of the J. W. and Ida M. Jameson Foundation, a research and educational project. As an active business woman, she was president of the J. W. Jameson Corp., the Burbank Canning Co. and a director of the Monolith Portland Cement Co.

Mrs. Jameson is survived by four nieces: Miss Ruth West, Sierra Madre; Mrs. Meta Moore, Arcata, Calif.; Mrs. Olive Snyder, Hermosa Beach, and Adelaide McCall of British Columbia, and by a nephew Ralph R. West of Hermosa Beach.

Services will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 20, at 2:30 p.m. at the Sierra Madre Congregational Church. Rev. George W. Lindsay and Rev. Fred Groetsma will officiate. Entombment will be at Forest Lawn Mausoleum. Ripple Mortuary in charge of arrangements.

LaSalle Sponsors Open House November 21

The parents of La Salle High School students will be able to "go back to school" for one evening when the school sponsors its initial open house night on Nov. 21. The activities will follow a brief meeting of the Parents' Association meeting in the gymnasium.

The parents of the freshmen, sophomores and juniors will be able to follow the school schedule of their sons. A special abbreviated schedule has been arranged so that parents will be able to meet the individual teachers in a classroom situation during which the teacher will explain his procedures, outlines, and policies. Each of the periods will be 15 minutes in length.

The entire program is another effort on the part of the administration of La Salle to acquaint the people at home with the work done at La Salle.

The meeting of the Parents' Association begins promptly at 8 p.m. The "Back to School" program will be followed by refreshments in the school cafeteria.

Art Exhibit Continues At La Salle Library

The La Salle High School Fine Arts Forum announces the presence of two art exhibits in the school lobby and library. Both of the displays will continue until Dec. 10.

Sculpture portrait artist, Ralph Preston, has arranged for his works to be shown so as to further educate the students and the public with the fine arts. His works have won several prizes, including first prize at the Laguna Beach Art Festival. Mr. Preston is a resident of Altadena.

Also on exhibition are oil paintings by Mrs. Kay Croissant. Mrs. Croissant is a member of the Pasadena Art Association, and recently showed her paintings at the Pepper Mill in Pasadena. She is also responsible for a local charity unit, the Magazines for Friendship movement, which sends magazines to places throughout the world, especially India and Japan.

Faith Lutheran Has Final Sunday Of Church Year

Next Sunday will mark the last Sunday of the ecclesiastical year for the members of Faith Lutheran Church, 845 Hastings Ranch Drive.

"The final Sunday of the church year makes us mindful of life's end and of the world's termination," states the Rev. Armin Hesse, and he asks, "What's in store for the Christian?" His sermon in the 10:30 Sunday morning worship service will answer this question as he speaks on the theme, "Standing Before the City of the Living God," according to Hebrews 12:18-29. The Junior Choir will present the anthem "Abide, O Dearest Jesus," under the direction of Edgar Plischke.

During the service the membership's "Declarations of Prayerful Intention for 1964" will be presented before the altar for dedication by Mr. Fred Schines, chairman of the board of fiscal affairs.

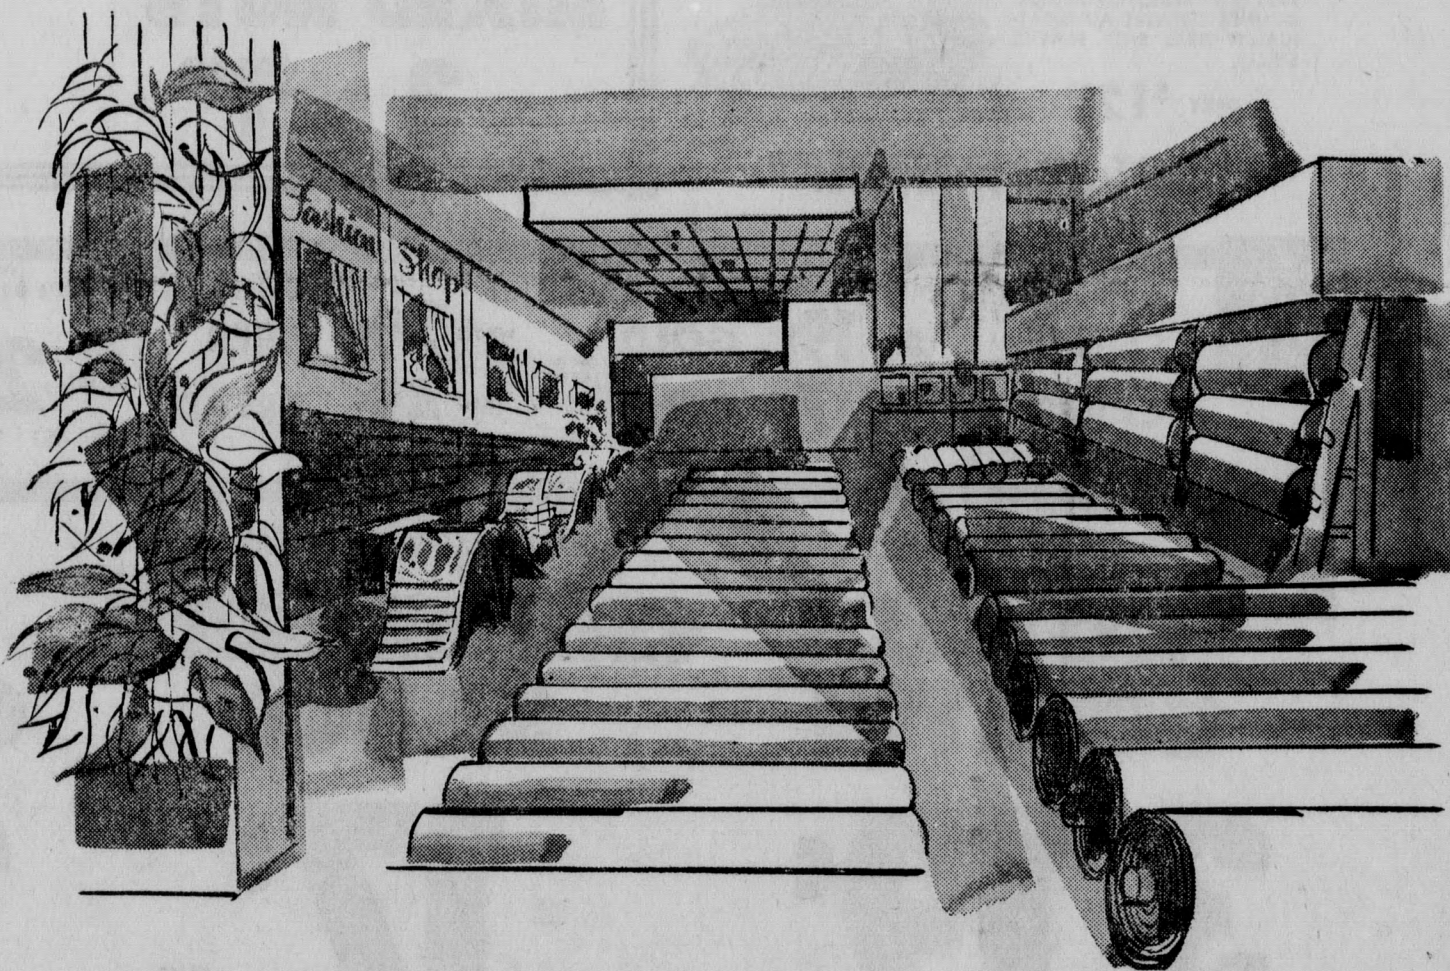

At 8 p.m. on Sunday evening the Waltham Leaguers will present the film of the Lutheran Wheat Ridge Foundation for parents, members and friends of the congregation. Refreshments will follow. The Leaguers will gather at 7 p.m. for Bible topic study and the planning of forthcoming events.

The annual National Thanksgiving Day service will be conducted in the church sanctuary next Thursday at 9 a.m. The pastor's message will be entitled "A Nation Fattened," based on Hosea 13:4-10. The Adult Choir will sing "God of Our Fathers."

INSURED, CHARTERED AND SUPERVISED BY AGENCIES OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

I may not believe in what the man says, but I will defend to my death his right to say it.—(similar words of Voltaire)

Dear Editor:

I am writing this in response to a letter from C. A. Hawley wherein the writer disputes my statement that "something" must be understood to the context of the original paragraph, "something" refers to an idea. This leads to the crux of the confusion. The threat of communism manifests itself in two forms: the inner threat, the danger of the conversion of American thinking to communist ideology and the outer threat, the danger of over communist aggression of Russia now and of China in the future.

During the 1930's the American system was understandably under severe criticism and many looked for other answers. Several socialistic Utopian schemes were popular; communism being one. As the economy improved, communism's limited appeal declined. This ideology did, however, enjoy a brief revival during and shortly after World War II, probably as a result of our war-time alliance with Russia. However, as more was revealed to us about the nature of communism as practiced in Russia, and more recently in China, the appeal of this system to a small number of Americans has declined to its present level of practically zero. He who thinks that this nation is threatened by conversion to communist ideology is beating a dead horse.

Contrarywise, the threat from without is real and its consequences horrible. A devious extension of the outer threat is espionage, the techniques of which have been perfected by communist countries. It is this factor of espionage that provokes confusion. There is, in many quarters, the inability to differentiate between the inner threat, conversion to communist ideology on the one hand; and the extension of the outer threat, communist espionage, on the other.

The failure to make this distinction has been a major factor in the development of that peculiar American phenomenon sometimes referred to as the "paranoid patriot": he who sees a communist behind every tree; he who sees his friends and neighbors as possible and even probable foreign spies; he who sees every change in a constantly changing society as a conspiracy directed from abroad. This creature is both pathetic and dangerous; pathetic in his juvenile manifestations of name-calling ("pinko," "comm-symp," etc.), dangerous in his taking refuge behind a shield of false patriotism that makes criticism and honest disagreement with his views tantamount to treason. Too often, therefore, the would-be dissenter is stifled by fear.

Another danger is the gross oversimplification of issues before the American public. Solutions to all problems are either "communist" or "American." This simplistic view renders intelligent examination of complex issues impossible. Civil rights isn't seen as the struggle of an oppressed minority for equality, rather it assumes the proportions of a communist conspiracy. Differences in opinion regarding techniques and philosophy of education are not intelligently examined, but are classified as either patriotic or communist. The solutions to major domestic problems are either black or white, patriotic or conspiratorial, communist or American. The problems before us cannot be solved with this juvenile approach.

Paradoxically, the threat from without—the threat that would destroy us—is largely ignored and even nourished by this line of thought: the United Nations is thought of as nothing less than a communist conspiracy; any revealed weakness in foreign aid is seen not as an indication of mismanagement or errors in judgment, but proof that the whole idea is wrong.

For him whose thinking has this paradoxical twist—life is indeed simple. But in the final analysis it is he who would weaken us by blinding us; it is he who would lead us to our destruction by delimiting the dialogue that should be taking place in full scope.

THOMAS R. ANDREW JR.

Dear Editor:

You are to be congratulated on your fine support of the United Way campaign. I am sure I speak for all the persons interested in the Los Angeles County Heart Association when I say that we wish the United Way, Inc. every success in its drive.

Our organization has, however, been contacted by a large number of people who are confused as to whether or not the Heart Association is a part of the United Way campaign or benefits from it. To clear up this confusion, we must state that we are not connected in any way, nor do we receive funds from the United Way, Inc.

While the United Way, Inc. has wisely and successfully brought together the fund raising campaigns of many community agencies, the Heart Association cannot participate in community chests or united funds or the newly formed United Way, Inc.

There are many reasons for this and space does not permit me to go into all of them. Suffice to say that the Heart Association is responsible to the community for a dynamic year-round program of public education, community service and vital heart disease research. This program must be planned and administered with a wide latitude by persons who are expert in the field and volunteers dedicated to carrying the Heart message to their neighbors.

Again next year in the month of February the Heart Association will conduct its own independent fund raising campaign with the help of thousands of wonderful volunteers through whose efforts we are able to wage an increasingly effective campaign against disorders of the heart and blood vessels.

In the meantime, we wish the United Way, Inc. the fullest possible success in its campaign to support the other important community agencies whose needs it is designed to meet.

—WILLIAM R. OHLAND
1964 Heart Fund
Chairman

Senior Citizens View Slides

The Sierra Madre Senior Citizen's Club met on Saturday, Nov. 16. Mr. Walter Feder showed his slides of Hawaii, and included some additional slides of Huntington Cacti and Descanso Gardens' Camellias. The program was enjoyed by all including Mrs. Caldwell, special guest from Minneapolis. The tables were decorated with Mr. Thomas Albright's beautiful chrysanthemums.

The Thanksgiving meeting will be held on Nov. 23. Mrs. James McCoy will give readings followed by a traditional dessert of pumpkin pie with whipped cream.

Norwalk Woman Loses 21½ Pounds in Six Weeks

Here you see Mrs. Harvey, with her husband in their Norwalk home. She is reducing to be more active with her children and to be more presentable at P-T A meetings.

as told by Virginia Harvey, Norwalk

"I have a wonderful husband and four lovely children. When we go out and do a lot of walk- ing, my legs get sore, and I have to stop and rest. This ruins their fun because they have to wait for me.

"When I go out to buy a nice dress for a party, or special oc- casion; it's very hard to find something in a size 18½ or 20 that doesn't make me feel and look like an old lady. Rather than wear them, I stay home, or else I make a suit with a loose jacket.

"This year I'm going to be the 1st Vice President of our

"I used to get so disgusted when I looked in a mirror, that I would turn away real fast, and if I felt this way, others must feel the same when they looked at me."

Mrs. Harvey's family is very thrilled and happy with her weight and inch loss. She looks so wonderful, and is beginning to resemble again the girl her husband married. Mrs. Harvey's husband is so pleased with her progress, that he has promised her a new wardrobe when she has completed her program.

Here you see Virginia Harvey with Pat Walker, the national figure authority. After only 6 weeks she has reduced 21½ pounds, 4½ inches from her waist, 5 inches from her abdomen, 4½ inches from her hips, 4 inches off each thigh, and still going down.

"Honolulu Woman Was Ashamed of Her Figure"

Here you see Mrs. Jessie Thompson with Pat Walker, the national figure authority. Mrs. Thompson is wearing a size 20 dress and weighs 189 pounds. For years she had all kinds of figure problems and was convinced it was glandular or hereditary.

As told by Jessie Thompson, Honolulu, Hawaii.

My name is Jessie Thompson. I live at 3838 Pahoa Avenue Honolulu. I am married and I have 2 fine sons; ages 20 and 22. For years I have been plagued with all kinds of frustrations and I did not realize until recently that most of them were the direct result of being frustrated and unhappy because of how I looked in a mirror. For years I read in magazines about Stauffer System and wished that there was one here in Honolulu. I can't explain the joy I felt when I read about Pat Walker arriving from the Mainland and saw her picture where she was photographed getting off a plane and read that she was here because of the opening of her new Salon. Then when I saw Miss Walker on T.V. and read about the wonderful things that were happening to the ladies in the Salon, I called and made an appointment and went into the Salon to see them. Until going in I really did not believe that there was professional help for people like me. For years I had listened to my friends, who like myself had all kinds of weight problems, and I had convinced myself that it was either my glands or it ran in my family, and that I was destined to always live with myself the way I was. My sons appreciate a pretty figure and I can't tell you what it means when they look at me now and rave over what's happening to "their mom."

Here you see Mrs. Thompson, after only 9½ weeks, she has gone from a size 20 down to a size 16 and still going down. She has reduced 28½ pounds, a total of 49 inches. And her sons rave over what is happening to their mom.

feels so good to get up in the morning and look at the scales in the bathroom and not be afraid to get on them. It's a lot of fun to think about walking on the beach here at Waikiki and not wear the loose muu-muus that I have pretended to enjoy wearing for all these years. I am going to wait until I am a size 14 before I get a bathing suit and I will tell the world I'll love wearing it. Miss Walker was photographed with me in the salon and I felt like a real celebrity with all the people watching us. It really is the only time in many years that I did not cringe when they pointed a camera at me. Probably what has happened to me is the same as any other woman who has found happiness and a new way of thinking, and a new outlook on life as a result of finding her figure again. I only wish that it had happened to me many years ago, because I feel that I have missed so much in life as the result of dreading to go to parties because I felt ashamed of the way I looked, and dreading to stand up before a club group to speak because I felt that they were looking at my figure faults and not listening to what I was saying, and I feel that my mental outlook did not make my life with my husband and sons as happy as it could have been and will be in the future. In other words, I am glad that I mustered up enough courage to go and talk to Miss Walker at the Salon and find the solution to my many problems that I have had for years.

81 Dodger Stadium Games

Dodgers Set 1964 Schedule; Season To Open April 14

E. J. Bavasi, vice-president and general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers, today announced one of the most unusual home schedules in Dodger history for the 1964 National League campaign. Eighty-one Dodger Stadium games will be distributed over 77 dates and nine home stands. No stay at Dodger Stadium will include more than 13 games and even that "long" stand will be played on 12 dates as it includes one of the four Sunday doubleheaders on the 1964 schedule.

The World Champions' home games will be broken down into stays of seven, six, eleven, ten, six, eleven, thirteen, ten and seven games. The 1963 schedule of the Dodgers included only seven home stands.

Fifty-nine night games, one Saturday afternoon game and 13 Sunday afternoon dates, including four doubleheaders, will be played. Night games will begin at 8 p.m., the twilight game of Saturday, April 18, with the Reds will start at 6 p.m. and all afternoon dates, either single or doubleheaders, will get under way at 1 p.m.

Appropriately, Walt Alston's Dodgers will swing into action against the team which gave them the rough- est run for the money down te pennant stretch in 1963. The getaway series consists of a pair of night games, April 14-15, with the St. Louis Cardinals. One of the Sunday doubleheaders, Aug. 16, also involves the Redbirds. The Dodgers have one holiday date at home during the season. They'll host Casey Stengel and his New York Mets the night of Saturday, July 4. Their Memorial Day and Labor Day activity will be on the road.

Willie Mays and the San Francisco Giants open the Dodgers' second home stand with a night game on Friday, May 1. The Giants will be at Dodger Stadium for two week-ends in 1964. Their second week-end visit falls on July 24-25-26 and the final trip here for the Candlestickers involves three night games Aug. 24-25-26.

The four Sunday double-headers include May 17 with the Pittsburgh Pirates,

Josephine Yendes Succumbs At 81

Josephine Helen Yendes, age 81, Sierra Madre resident, passed away Monday, Nov. 18, at Sierra Madre Community Hospital. The deceased made her home with a brother Ingar Oleson at 382 Mariposa.

Other survivors include three sisters: Mrs. O. F. Anderson of Ambrose, N.D., Nellie R. Oleson of Chicago, and Mrs. Ida M. Hutzell and two brothers: Martin Oleson of Minnesota and Albert J. Oleson of Waterloo, Iowa.

$47½ Million Surplus in State Fund

The State's General Fund contained an unappropriated surplus of $47,565,014 on June 30, the last day of the 1962-63 fiscal year.

State Controller Alan Cranston in submitting the report to Governor Edmund G. Brown noted that the un- appropriated surplus is $2,560,196 greater than it was last year.

The report also shows balances of continuing ap- propriations amounting to $39,067,632. This brings the total accumulated surplus for the year to $86,632,646— down $5,956,750 from the previous year.

The Controller's Office ex- plained that the unappropriated surplus represents funds available for ap- propriation by the Legislature, while continuing ap- propriations are funds earmarked for specific purposes— pri- marily capital outlay — which have not yet been en- cumbered by contracts.

Accrued General Fund revenues for 1962-63 as shown in the report amount- ed to $1,860,925,614. Appropriation expenditures amounted to $1,871,435,721. These included $667,574,565 for state operations, $16,410,666 for capital outlay and $1,187,450,490 for local assistance programs.

St. Rita's Parish Clothing Drive To Start Sunday

Members of St. Rita's parish, Sierra Madre, to- gether with Catholics throughout the country, are participating in the annual Thanksgiving Clothing Drive, which opens next Sunday and runs through the following Saturday. Any wearable clothing, new or used, is acceptable and needed. It should be brought to the school hall any time during the week. Shoes, clothing for men, women and children, blankets, sheets and pillow cases — all are welcome.

The Bishops of the coun- try, through the National Catholic Welfare Council, in 1945, established this cloth- ing drive for the distribution of clothing to the needy of the world.

Trucks of the St. Vincent de Paul Society of Los An- geles pick up the packed and boxed clothing taking it to San Pedro. From there it is shipped to needy areas.

Rev. Thomas O'Malley, pastor of St. Rita's, has just returned from a trip through the Holy Lands. Flying into Jordan, Father O'Malley had the pleasure of meeting and talking with one of the men in charge of distributing clothing collected in this drive. He learned just how needed these articles are, and how well the clothing is handled.

Lancers Named Cross Country Co-Champions

The La Salle High School Lancers captured its first cross country championship when it was named co- champion with Bishop Amat High School after the Santa Fe League finals on Nov. 14. La Salle had earlier been named dual meet champion, winning with a 5-1 mark; however, the Lancers from Bishop Amat won first place in the finals to gain a tie for the entire season point standings.

Coach Mel Hawkins ex- pressed great satisfaction with the season performance of the squad. His pleasure was especially noted when he pointed out that the team is composed solely of sophomores and juniors — a helpful notice for next year.

The Lancers will next run in the C.I.F. prelims at Mt. San Antonio College on Nov. 22.

FLOURNOY REPORT

by Assemblyman
Houston L. Flournoy

It can not be stated too often that automobile smog is a result, not of the gasoline which is burned in our cars, but of gasoline which escapes unburned.

The crankcase devices which the public will soon be required to install on its cars have just one function: to reduce the amount of unburned fumes that escape into the atmosphere. In the opinion of most experts, these devices can only be effective if they are properly installed and inspected at regular intervals.

With this in mind, just about everyone concerned with California's smog battle cheered the recent decision by six San Francisco Bay area counties to set up installation and inspection stations for crankcase devices. Scheduled to follow suit this month are Riverside, Orange, San Bernardino and San Diego counties.

The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors, which originally stunned air pollution authorities when it declined to give the "go ahead" to such stations, now appears satisfied with certain clarifications in the smog laws. It is virtually certain the board will be calling for the system this month.

This burst of political approval throughout the state's smog areas insures that some 8 million California vehicles will be equipped with "properly functioning" crankcase devices within the next two years.

Since crankcase emissions of unburned gasoline contribute nearly 30 per cent of our smog problem, less smog should be noticeable within the coming year.

Meanwhile, acceptance of an effective device to curb the more menacing tailpipe emissions (65 per cent of the problem) still appears to be some time away. The first tailpipe devices are expected to appear on new model cars at the end of 1965, but it will take several years before a substantial number of California's vehicles will be equipped.

Despite efforts to cope with the current smog-producing automobile, some researchers believe that the ultimate solution may lie with the development of the turbine engine. This engine will run on any fuel from crankcase drippings to neat oil with a total burning process. Chrysler Corporation has developed 75 of these cars which will be placed in public use this year for testing. Of course, the practical aspects of mass producing an automobile with a turbine engine will require many years of further development. Factors of maintenance, noise, dust intake and mileage are just a few of the problems remaining to be solved. We certainly can not wait for this.

For the present, the advent of installation and inspection stations in urban centers from San Diego to San Francisco provides cause for hope. Surely in the last decade we have progressed a long way in our willingness to face the problem squarely. No longer do we pretend smog doesn't exist and hope it will somehow blow away.

55-Day Racing Season To Start Thursday, Dec. 26

Elmendorf Farm's B Major, surprise conqueror of Candy Spots last summer in the $100,000-added Chicagoan Stakes, will be campaigned at Santa Anita Park this winter. The Santa Anita 55-day racing season opens on Thursday, Dec. 26.

Winner of more than $200,000 this year in a series of fighting finishes, many against older horses on both dirt and grass, B. Major will be trained at Santa Anita by Farrell W. Jones, California's champion conditioner for the past three years and the leader here the past two seasons.

B. Major also won the Everglades Stakes at Hialeah in 1963, and was runner-up in such other major events at the American Derby, Washington Park Handicap and the Lawrence Realization.

The coming 4-year-old bay son of Summer Tan will be pointed toward the $100,000-added Charles H. Strub Stakes at 1 & 1/4 miles on Jan. 25 — a race exclusively for his age group — and undoubtedly also will be nominated for the $145,000-guaranteed Santa Anita Handicap on Feb. 22.

B. Major will likely also also race on turf here. He lost the Washington Park Handicap by a mere neck to the older The Axe II, generally acclaimed as the nation's premier grass horse for 1963.

Elmendorf Farm, owned by Max Gluck, has been often represented at Santa Anita. Two Cent Stamp, the filly, and Micarlo, imported from Peru, both won stakes here for Elmendorf.

Trainer Jones, who has saddled the winners of more than 100 races for each of the past three years, has applied for a full quota of stalls for his public stable, including 16 Elmendorf horses.

Letters to the Editor . . .

I may not believe in what the man says, but I will defend to my death his right to say it. (similar words of Voltaire)

Dear Editor:

Do you remember this picture? It dates back to 1960 when we attempted to spread Christmas cheer in town. Everything was free including candy canes, balloons, and bubble gum, which was generously donated by some of our local merchants. After two years of this, lack of interest discouraged it.

I am withholding my name as it may spoil something for the children, however Ralph Hewitt knows me well and can supply it to anyone that is interested.

So come on everyone, let's put our shoulder to the wheel. We can do it if we all work together.

Dear Editor:

The following is an open letter to the office of the Sierra Madre City Engineer.

Dear Sirs:

During the recent hot spell, (107 etc.) my mother and I were doing our utmost to escape the heat as best we could.

One way was not to think about it. So we started to think about what to think about when our answer was a mere fifty feet away from our front porch.

Our thoughts soon turned to pity as we watched those husky, sweating men working tirelessly in all the heat on the new sewer system on Highland Ave. east.

Then we thought about depth of the ditch (16 feet plus) and the lack of fresh air amid the dust. We admired the efficient handling of the heavy equipment. We also thought of the dangers of a cave-in from some unforeseen weakness in the tricky notions of decomposed granite in the work area. Let us be thankful.

The men always seemed cheerful. If there was any grumbling, it certainly wasn't in English.

Then, the rains came! Heavy rains! But, step by step, the work went on. We couldn't see the sweat anymore. The men were soaking wet and muddy. But, on one occasion, an operator of a hydraulic shovel took the time to lift a car from a muddy, newly filled ditch and then rumble down the street to his own unfinished quagmire.

Well, we forgot about the heat and the rain but not

Local Realtors To Defend Individual Property Rights

The Arcadia Board of Realtors will circulate petitions to help qualify an initiative for a constitutional amendment guaranteeing the right of any property owner to decline to sell, lease or rent his property to any person as he chooses, it was announced today by Sidney E. Collins Jr., the board's president.

The initiative was filed Nov. 5 with California Attorney General Stanley Mosk by "Americans To Outlaw Forced Housing," a group supported by the California Real Estate Association, California Apartment House Owners Association and others. Collins said, L. H. Wilson of Fresno, president of CREA, is also chairman of "Americans To Outlaw Forced Housing's" organizing committee.

"The initiative reads: 'Neither the state nor any subdivision or agency thereof shall deny, limit or abridge, directly or indirectly, the right of any person, who is willing or desires to sell, lease or rent any part or all of his real property, to decline to sell, lease or rent such property to such person or persons as he, in his absolute discretion chooses.'

Answers to key questions about the investor-owned electric utility industry and the all-electric future

How does Edison help create job opportunities in Southern California?

Investor-owned companies such as Edison have a real stake in the prosperity of their home communities — and are busy clear across the country doing something about building business and attracting industry. Example? Here is one of a series of national advertisements published by Southern California Edison.

This ad dramatizes the advantages of sun-kissed Culver City as the "perfect plant site" for a modern industry. The advertisements are part of a consistent drive by Edison to attract industries to the 11-county area which we serve.

How does the electric industry help ease your tax load?

The investor-owned electric utility companies rank first of all industries in total taxes paid in support of local, state and federal governments (see chart below).

TOTAL TAXES PAID BY TEN LEADING INDUSTRIES	1962	1961
INVESTOR-OWNED ELECTRIC UTILITY CO'S	100	100
COMMUNICATIONS	85	85
CHEMICALS	75	75
BEVERAGES	65	65
PETROLEUM REFINING	55	55
FOOD	45	45
MOTOR VEHICLES	35	35
MACHINERY	25	25
TOBACCO MANUFACTURERS	15	15
ELECTRICAL MACHINERY	10	10

One of the many important differences between government-operated power agencies and investor-owned electric companies is this: The former are supported by taxes — while the investor-owned utility companies are major supporters of the community, the state and the nation.

Southern California Edison pays taxes to help build and maintain schools, fire stations, police systems and other mainstays of our way of life. Edison's total taxes for 1962 came to $85.7 million (that's about one quarter million dollars every day of the year)! Taxes represent almost 24 cents of every dollar of our revenue.

Scouting Founder Honored By Troop Girl Scouts

Girl Scout Troop No. 529 held a combination Halloween and birthday party on Oct. 29. The birthday was in honor of Juliette Lowe, the founder of the Girl Scouts. The troop invited the "Han-we-ma" Camp Fire Girls as guests.

Refreshments were provided by the Frisky Fire patrol of which Jill Simpson, Heide Holte, Susan Cook, Debra Olney, Susan Astrin, and Linda Hill are members. The games were planned by Peggy McConnell, Julie Pendl, Parris Shepherd, Karen Milfield, and Sally Pogue of the Green Clover patrol.

Decorations and invitations were provided by the Mischief Makers patrol, Robin Simpson, Debra Wagner, Meredith Phillips Sarah Rolph, Debra Edwards, and Ethel Wilcox.

Lending assistance to these girls were the Lily Pads: Vickie Clancy, Gail Hunsicker, Virginia Maes, Sylvia Morrison, Laurie Husvdt, and Debra Anderson. The party was a great success.

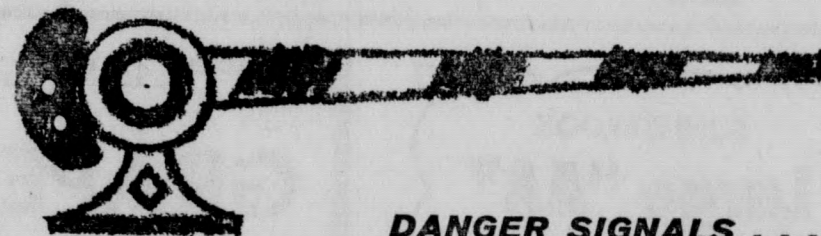

The "Han-we-ma" Camp Fire Girls have invited Troop No. 529 to be their guests at a forthcoming party.

DIABETES sends out definite danger signals—increased thirst, hunger and urination; loss of weight; itching; easy tiring; changes of vision and slow healing of cuts and scratches. Fortunately, diabetes can be detected quickly and with little effort. Your family pharmacist will be happy to give you reliable information on diabetes and how it can be detected.

Night light for a nervous dachshund

One day a man called us about a dog. Seems the dog was afraid of the dark. The man at Southern California Edison (a dog-owner himself) suggested a special night light and a good electrician. Result: dreamless sleep for a calmed canine and a delighted owner. Day after day (and night) the investor-owned electric utility companies do more than provide low-cost electricity. We try to please every customer. Like any citizen, we pay taxes to help build the new schoolhouse, library and fire station. We take pride in being good neighbors — and in actively helping to build our home communities. For news of how community job opportunities are being opened up for you and your neighbors, read right.

Tax Guidelines To Explain Sales Tax Laws

District Director R. A. Rid-dell announced today that Internal Revenue will again provide guidelines for tax-payers residing in California for estimating sales tax de-ductions for 1963.

The guidelines which will be provided for taxpayers in each of the 38 states with general sales tax laws are set out in tables showing residents average sales tax payments. Taxpayers who itemize deductions on their Federal Income Tax returns Form 1040 may use the tables.

Sales tax tables will be available in the District Di-rectors' offices on or about Dec. 1.

Girl Scouts Initiate Five New Members

Girl Scout Troop 529 held an investiture of five new members on Nov. 5. Debra Anderson, Debra Edwards, Linda Hill, Laurie Husted and Ethelyn Wilcox were in-vested. A lovely candlelight ceremony was held at the youth hut.

CHILDBIRTH In the Good Old Days

Few families would care to go back to "the good old days" of child-birth. Death of mothers was common place, often because doctors had no drugs adequate for fighting infection. In 1915 one of every 164 mothers died in childbirth, or from compli-cations of her pregnancy.

Many of these mothers could have been saved by only a few dollars' worth of today's medicines.

Now only one mother in 3,125 dies. Much of the credit for this improvement is due to the new prescription drugs. Their cost is surprisingly low. In fact, only 15 prescriptions in a thousand cost as much as $10. The average one costs only $3.26. No wonder we say: "Today's prescription is the biggest bargain in history."

SPORTS AS Hank Ives SEES IT

Award For Old Hankus

Old Hankus MacBagpipe should get some sort of an award for even attempting to predict the winners this crazy, nutty, ridiculous foot-ball season.

Last week he had to settle for 12 winners, one tie and seven losses. The ancient one put the finger on the Bulldogs of PHS to win 21-20 and of course they bowed to the mighty Mustangs of Muir, 14-13, in what will go down as the finest game in the history of the cross-town rivalry.

These are two of the finest high school teams in the southland and it wouldn't be any surprise at all to see the C.I.F. championship come to the Crown City.

How can you figure a team like the Bruins of UCLA? On the form they don't belong in the same ballpark with the Wash-ington Huskies. Just goes to show you how much emo-tion and psychology means on the gridiron these days.

Watching Michigan State struggle with an inept Notre Dame team on television, one couldn't help but feel the Pacific Coast had it made on New Years Day, especially with Wash-ington's Huskies Rose Bowl bound. Then Billy Barnes' bouncing Bruins blasted the Husky myth. Well, what are you going to do?

The season's pigskin pick-ing ton reads 115-6-60 and the 20 garbled guesses that follow probably won't do much to improve the percentage.

LANCERS over Ventura by a touchdown. Homecom-ing festivities Friday night and maybe Hunt's hench-men can dig one more vic-tory out of the fire.

U.S.C. 17, U.C.L.A. 14. A week ago it would have been by three tallies.

CALIFORNIA 28, Stanford 19. Watch these kind, they are tough.

OREGON 17, Oregon State 16. Traditional rivalry can go either way.

WASHINGTON 30, Wash-ington St. 13. Huskies should bounce back and gain Rose Bowl nod.

ILLINOIS to slip past Michigan State. Winner represents Big 10 on New Year's Day. Old Hankus looks for Illinois to triumph even though tilt is at East Lan-sing.

MICHIGAN to slip past Ohio State, but we've been wrong on the Buckeyes all year . . . WISCONSIN by a field goal over Minnesota . . . Iowa to ride over Notre Dame and Purdue to out-score Indiana but awfully close.

BAYLOR by a touchdown over S.M.U. at Waco . . . RICE to bounce back with win over TCU . . . OKLA-HOMA 14-10 over rugged Nebraska . . . KANSAS to nudge Missouri.

PRINCETON to take the measure of Bob Blackman's Dartmouth Indians . . . PITTSBURGH over Penn State in a real toughie . . . DUKE over North Carolina . . . FLORIDA to out-score their state rivals from Miami Univ.

BALTIMORE to nip the Rams something like 35-31. SAN DIEGO CHARGERS over Houston Oilers.

Little This-N-That
JUST A DAB of baseball gab to suit the neighbors. Larry Sherry and Ken Rowe will be gone from the Dod-ger roster next year. Nick Wilhite will be a pitcher of importance in the Dodger scheme of things.

What's behind the Harold Parrot switch from the Dod-gers to Angels? Leo Duro-cher still looks like a good bet for the Baltimore Oriole managing job. Interleague trading starts next week with such names as Orlando Cepeda, Felipe Alou, Jim Gentile, Lee Thomas, Eddie Matthews, and Rocky Cola-vito on the block.

REPORTS THAT ELGIN BAYLOR would be traded must be way out of line. Elg is to the Lakers what Stan Musial was to the St. Louis Cards, and I hope I don't have to swallow that line later on.

MISSISSIPPI UNIVERSITY may pass up the Sugar Bowl this year and go to the Orange Bowl in Miami, Florida. This rumor alone may have caused Pearl River to hustle their "sample" Jr. Rose Bowl contract back to Pasadena in a hurry. The Wolves have hung up a great 46-6-1 record in the pas five years and have just one tie against nine wins in 1963 with a 134 pound pass-hap-py youngster leading the way.

NORTHEASTERN OKLA-HOMA is still a good bet for the Eastern nod but this eligibility thing has caused more than one ulcer. N.E.O., or PEARL RIVER against ORANGE COAST would make a heckofa Jr. Rose Bowl classic.

PASADENA QUARTER-BACKS will have Bill Symes and Fred Hessler as guest speakers to give the inside story on the great U.S.C.-U.C.L.A. FRACAS Saturday.

Mrs. James Haynes of Ar-cadia is chairman of the day, with Mrs. Carroll Roth and Miss Ruby Charlton as-sisting her.

Bonelli Warning

Stalled Flood Legislation Serious Threat To County

Supervisor Frank G. Bonelli has issued a warning that unless Congress passes additional flood control legisla-tion immediately the future of the Federal program in Los Angeles County is in grave peril.

"Congressional bickering and in-fighting over bills designed to provide author-ization for further expendi-ture on this program must cease immediately," the Su-pervisor said.

He called upon members of the County Congressional dele-gation to redouble their efforts to obtain quick pass-age of H.R. 6016 which will allow the Army Corps of En-gineers' flood control pro-gram in the Los Angeles Basin to continue.

The crisis was brought about by a deadlock in Con-gress which has prevented monies on the Federal pro-gram in the County since last July 31.

"Our Board of Supervisors has recognized the dire threat this work stoppage presents by authorizing the Flood Control District to ad-vance $2,535,000 to the Corps of Engineers to functionally complete five vital projects which were in the midst of construction when the au-thorization to spend money ran out," Bonelli said.

These include a unit of the Burbank Eastern System in Burbank and Glendale; the Emerald-Live Oak project in La Verne; the Thompson-San Jose Creek job in Po-mona, and the Benedict and Coldwater Channels in Be-verly Hills.

"In addition, there are un-completed units of various projects which cannot be placed under contract next spring as planned, unless the Congress acts," the Su-pervisor pointed out.

He listed these as the fi-nal unit of the Burbank-Eastern System; Part 2 of the Coyote Creek improve-ment northeast of Long Beach; the improvement of Dead Horse and Royal Chan-nels in Glendale; two units of the improvement of the lower San Gabriel River, also in the Long Beach area; Part 3a of the Thompson-San Jose Creek job in Po-mona; Claremont, and the first unit of San Jose Creek in the City of Industry.

"Such an interruption of the Federal program would have serious consequences on the Flood Control District's multi-million dollar storm drain program which utilizes these channels as outlets," Bonelli said.

"The economic effect on the construction and allied industries in Southern Cali-fornia also would be consid-erable and could cause un-employment in these fields when it's realized that $17.5 million in contracts could not be awarded."

The Federal flood control program in Los Angeles County has been under-way since 1936 has been pro-secuted in cooperation with the Flood Control District, Bonelli said.

"I cannot stress too highly the importance of immedi-ate action by the Congress for an end to the detrimen-tal and delaying tactics of some of its members."

Bonelli, who is chairman of the Supervisors' Flood Control Committee, conclud-ed: "It is essential that ev-ery Congressman represent-ing this area exert his strongest efforts to get his colleagues 'off the dime' so that the citizens of Los An-geles County are assured that this soundly engineer-ed program can continue without further delay."

Rev. O'Malley Ends Sojourn

Rev. Thomas O'Malley, 318 N. Baldwin Ave., Sierra

Madre, pastor of St. Rita's Church, returned last Fri-day from a two month trip through the Holy Lands, where he had the privilege of saying Holy Mass at each of the various shrines.

From the Holy Lands, Father O'Malley visited Greece, Rome, France and completed his trip with a two week visit with his brothers in Ireland. The trip was made by air.

Joint Meeting

Included in this vein of thought was R-3 zoning. The Commission will continue this study along with apart-ment development, and will study the requirements of neighboring cities to best guide us.

The business district will not be further expanded until the effect of Suffolk Street opening can be anal-ized, and the policy on Variances will stand pat that the law must be applied equally to all applicants, and the law is explicit on four points that must be met before a Variance can be given.

The Commission and Council agreed that both will be alert on R-Hillside area problems. There hasn't been enough experience to indicate any change at this time.

The subdivision improve-ments were reviewed and the Commission indicated that it would be its policy to require sidewalks in new subdivisions and that the major problem with the low parkway lights rather than the regular street lights would be making sure they were maintained and op-erated.

In the discussion on the Master Plan, the Commis-sion stated that as soon as time permitted it will pro-ceed with the establishment of the light manufacturing area which is not shown on the Master Plan. There are a number of restrictive items that the Commission feels should be placed on light manufacturing zone, such as noise, odors and traffic.

The last item of discus-sion was the Suffolk Street opening. A progress report was given indicating that the new map showing the 35-foot width, the possible parking lot and proposed al-ley which will have open-ings both from Suffolk and Baldwin has now been com-pleted.

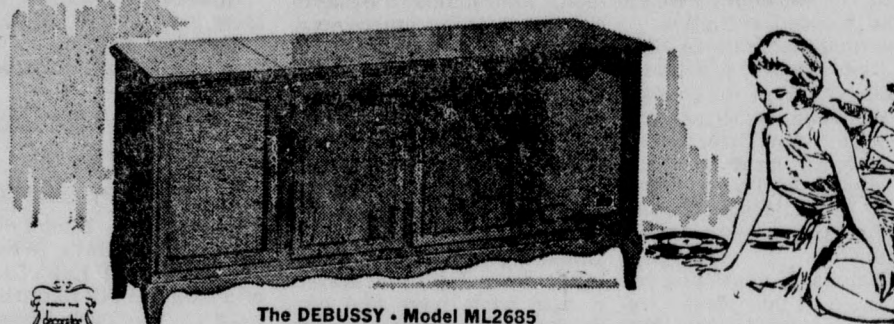

The joint meeting of the City Council and the Plan-ning Commission ended with a feeling among all mem-bers that a meeting of the minds had been accom-plished, with a better under-standing of both bodies, their problems and their means of solving these prob-lems. Both the City Council and the Planning Commis-sion are giving their time and efforts for a better Si-erra Madre.

Buenos dias, yo hablo un poco de español. There, I've said it! I'm just practicing on you. Every week I trudge down to PHS to study Spanish and I'm beginning to believe that as a linguist I am a lost cause. Senor told us he had one pupil who took the same course 11 times and still never caught on. That was the first mistake he made as far as I am concerned. Misery loves company, and I figure if I can learn it in ten years I'll be one year ahead of his worst pupil.

Someone asked me if I intended to go to Mexico once I learn the language. I hope so, but I hope I don't have to wait that long. I'm taking Spanish because I am trying to climb out of that comfortable mental rut that I allowed myself to get into. I told myself for years that I was too busy raising the children, but now I'm too busy trying to catch up with them, and believe me, it ain't easy!

Lots of happy news in this column. One of the nicest things I have heard this week is the announcement of the engagement of Mrs. Beatrice Tubbs Mallard to Mr. W. C. (Terry) Dunning of Barhite. They are planning their wedding for some time in January. It will be the merging of eight wonderful children into one family. Mrs. Mallard is the mother of three. Her eldest son, Richard, 18, is already in the Army. Tom, 17, is the president of his senior class at PHS and Sharyn, her daughter, is 9. In the Dunning household there are five children, starting with Tracy, who is 12; Cindy, 11; Hal, 8; Kimberly, 6, and Polly, who is just 3.

They announced their engagement informally to their intimate friends just recently and their combined children are so excited and happy that January seems like a year away.

Every now and then I like to call Mrs. Carl G. Warnick of Sierra Madre Villa and catch up on the activities of her interesting family.

Learned that their son, David, is real happy doing his mission for the Mormon Church. He is located in New Zealand and will be there for two years. So many of his classmates have wanted his address I thought I would put it in the column. Around Christmas time mail means a lot to a boy away from home. It is: David Warnick, 183 Seaton Heights, Wellington, New Zealand. Their eldest daughter, Judy, is going to Brigham Young College.

And finally, there was such good news about Susan, who is a sophomore at PHS. She was entered in the Arcadia competition of the "Miss Date Setter" contest by Hinshaw's where she has been taking a charm course. Appearance and poise were only two of the qualifications necessary. One of the more important factors was a composition written by each contestant. To make a long story short, she won the Arcadia competition and then last Thursday evening she won for the entire San Gabriel Valley in the competition at the Mission High School. Her next step will be the national contest on Dec. 17. She already has received several lovely gifts which include a real gold charm bracelet with her name and an outfit from the Celanese Company of America, the sponsoring firm. I understand "Seventeen" magazine will carry full coverage of the entire competition. Congratulations, Susan!

When a young lady reaches the age of 5 nothing would do but to celebrate with a party. Ann Dorsey, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clete Dorsey of Vosburg, did just that last Saturday afternoon. The party started at her home with a series of games and then proceeded on to Macabob's where they were entertained by the Fairy Princess and served birthday refreshments. The children were John Karlotis, Mark Wenger, Leslie and Jeffrey Johnson, Tish Eggleston, Robin Eppard, Eric Maurin, Ansley Ham, Kim Dunning, Jody Jacobson and Frances Thorsen, and believe me, they all had a wonderful time.

It was memory night at the Ben Rogers home last Sunday. They entertained Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ascencio, Mr. and Mrs. Arturo Gutierrez and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klingerman for dinner. The topics for the evening were discussions of the Klingermans' recent trip to Mexico and comparing notes, also films of the wedding of the Gutierrez' daughter, Gloria, and John Delaney last summer.

I haven't seen Dr. and Mrs. Lincoln Wilson in so long I just decided I'd better check up on them and see what they have been doing. Besides playing lots of golf, Fran said she has had several houseguests recently. From Los Altos they had Mr. and Mrs. Walter Repe who spent the weekend with them.

And just back from New York were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Weillick, who are presently building a real exciting house in La Jolla.

I asked Fran if she did any entertaining for the Weillicks while they were here, and she said no; they never had time after they got through shopping!

Hadassah Women HMO Luncheon Tuesday, Nov. 26

Mrs. Charles Lapson, president of the San Gabriel Valley Chapter of Hadassah, back from the National Hadassah Convention held in Washington, D.C., announces that the women of the San Gabriel Chapter are completing arrangements for the annual HMO luncheon-meeting.

It will be held Tuesday, Nov. 26, 11 a.m., at the Pasadena Jewish Temple and Center, 1434 N. Altadena Drive.

The program will include a speaker from the American Heart Association and an inspiring movie, "The Essence of It All."

HMO—Hadassah Medical Organization, is a major program of Hadassah. Today, from its Medical Center based in Jerusalem, HMO cares for 15,000 in-patients and 250,000 out-patients annually; its doors and services open to all, regardless of race or creed.

Hadassah scientists are engaged in significant medical research. Students from many nations, including the newly developing countries of Africa and Asia, receive vital training in medicine. It is from this Center that Hadassah medical teams go out for service in Liberia, Tanganyika, Burma and other lands where aid is needed to solve pressing problems of health. The comprehensive health programs include diagnosis, creative and preventive medical services.

Mrs. Elmer Zellman is chairman for the day. Program Chairman Mrs. Harold Tornheim requests that reservations be made by calling CU. 3-4819 or SY. 6-2807.

Has Local Sharp Shooter

The Annual Fall Gallery Junior Rifle Match held recently at the Pasadena Rotary Junior Rifle Club Range and co-sponsored by the Pasadena Rotary and Pasadena Recreation Department, proved very popular among 135 junior shooters from 23 Junior Rifle Clubs in the southern California area. Twenty-six girls and 21 sub-juniors (13 and under) were among the competitors in the small-bore, 4-position rifle match. Mayor Clarence Oakley of Pasadena attended the finals to present the Match winner with the Mayor's trophy.

Douglas S. Spencer Jr., of Sierra Madre won the Mayor's Trophy for having the highest total score for the two-day tournament. Score 389. Then Douglas and his team partner, Gary A. Olsen, of Torrance, placed highest in the two-man team competition, score 768, thus winning the Overall winning Team Trophy for the San Gabriel Valley Gun Club Jr. Div., and gold medals for themselves. There top shooters have done well in National Rifle Association Championships as well as winning places on the California State Rifle Team in May, 1963.

The High-Girl Trophy was won by Miss Kathy LaMonte (Oceanside) with the Camp Pendleton Junior Rifle Club. Score 384.

Frederick Gruber of Sierra Madre won first place trophy in the Marksman Class and also the Second "B" team medal.

Other riflemen belonging to the Pasadena Rotary Jr. Rifle Club and residing in the area are: Margaret and Thomas Wynne, of Sunnyside; Douglas Erickson of Sierra Madre Blvd.; Frederick Gruber, Mariposa; Barry Lovgren, Sierra Meadows; Betty, Kevin and Ralph Kirch of Sunnyside; Ed Scott Verreux, Grand View, and Jeffery and Bruce Seymour, Michillinda.

good I doubt whether I would like it... taxes... if we got value received I would have no gripe on the amount of it, but misappropriated money is, and always will be a sore spot with me and I will continue to harp about it every time it bothers me.

Well, looks like parking is going to become a real problem around this city. The police department will soon be notifying motorists that two hours is all they are allowed at a time on the streets. Merchants that are lucky enough to have parking will be tougher and tougher in allowing space for their customers only, and for their employees... now if the Council should happen to put teeth in the parking Ordinance and make it a violation for stall jumping, some of us and I do mean us, are going to be in a hell of a mess.

Guess the best thing to do is to get myself a Honda or a bicycle and run it in the front office after each trip... of course I am a customer of nearly every merchant on main street... at least I owe them all money... maybe I could, until the council stops me, park an hour each day in front of each businesshouse and stand firm on the ground that I am a customer... anyway we have a problem coming up.

In closing the column for this week let us remind you that Thanksgiving is but a few days away, and although things really seem tough we have a million and one things to be thankful for, and the one is the fact that we are alive and living in Sierra Madre... see you around I hope, I hope, I hope.

80 Member Board

Bonelli Proposes Drastic Revamping of MTA Group

Supervisor Frank G. Bonelli today proposed a plan for reconstruction of the Metropolitan Transit Authority giving broad, countywide local participation thereupon.

The Bonelli plan provides for creation of an 80-member Transit Authority Board of Directors made up as follows: one member appointed and designated by each city in the County from its City Council; two appointed county supervisors as designated by the Board of Supervisors; and, in addition, the City of Los Angeles shall appoint five additional members as designated by the City from the City Council.

The proposal additionally provides for an executive board from nine regional districts, patterned after the present nine Superior Court districts of the county, allowing for each regional district to appoint from the general assemblage membership on the board of directors its representative on the executive board. The addition of two Supervisors appointed by the Board of Supervisors, one to represent the unincorporated area of the county and the other to be a county representative-at-large, produces a total membership on the executive board of 11 persons.

Supervisor Bonelli's proposed plan of M.T.A. reconstruction would provide an authority in which both the new County Transit Authority's board of directors and its executive board would be comprised of appointed elective officials from cities and the county. Such a plan would provide the greatest possible countywide membership and local participation.

"Of necessity, the executive board would carry out the general chores of the new County Transit Authority," Bonelli explained, "with, of course, all major determinations being voted upon by the new authority's main board of directors for approval or rejection."

"Local government, playing as it will an important part in the development of mass media of rapid transit, must have a voice directly related thereto and this plan will provide such a possibility."

"Drafting of such legislation that can be dealt with at the Budget Session in Sacramento, as indicated by Governor Brown, besides including reconstruction and creation of a new County Transit Authority as outlined, must make it mandatory that any subsidy, whether via an in lieu tax on automobiles, a tax on personal and real property or by the pledging of the ad valorem tax base in support of government obligation bonds shall require a vote of the people."

Bonelli will make his M.T.A. reconstruction plan available to Los Angeles County's State Senator Tom Rees, who plans to introduce legislation at the impending Budget Session to reconstruct the M.T.A. Board, and to State Assemblyman Tom Carrell, chairman of the Assembly Interim Committee on Transportation and Commerce, whose committee has held public hearings on the M.T.A. fiasco.

"I am sincerely requesting their joint support in authoring legislation that will accomplish the remedial changes as advocated in the belief that only this approach of reconstruction of the M.T.A. will meet with universal public acceptance," Bonelli emphasized.

The holiday Talent Auction was first held in 1956 and has continued to be increasingly successful each year.

Shepard, of Pasadena, will be co-hostesses for the evening. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Asher at EL 5-0046 or Mrs. Stuart Smith at EL 7-1833.

YOUR . . . SIERRA MADRE . . . POLICE REPORT

Bicycle safety is a major concern to every police agency. Two motor vehicles may collide with relatively severe impact, with no injury to the occupants. However, a motor vehicle vs. bicycle accident, even though it occurs at slow speeds, generally produces severe injury to the cyclist.

Bicycle safety also includes concern for pedestrian safety. There have been numerous injuries recorded of pedestrians being struck by bicycles which were operated on the sidewalks.

Sec. 5227 of the City Code states in part, "Every person riding a bicycle—upon a highway shall be granted all of the rights and shall be subject to all of the duties applicable to the driver of a vehicle by this chapter, except those provisions which by their very nature can have no application."

A few examples of the application of this Section would include: Stopping at stop signs, yielding to pedestrians in crosswalks and at intersections, cutting in and out of traffic and driving on the side walk.

I would like to close this report with a few comments on the last item—riding on sidewalks:

I feel the safe and prudent thing to do in operation of a bicycle is to:

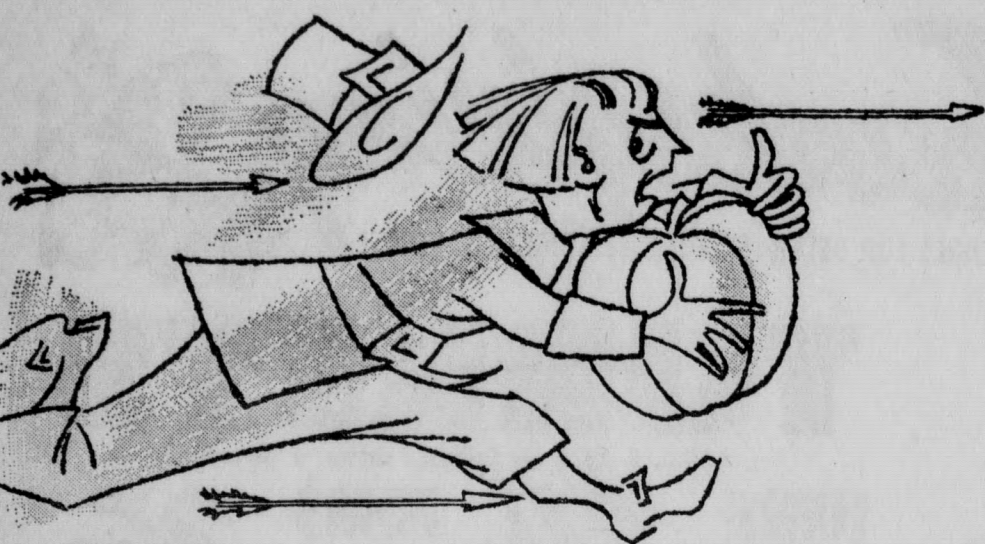

(1) Walk the bicycle in the downtown area. They cannot be ridden on the side walk and riding in the street produces other numerous hazards.

(2) When parking a bicycle, do not block doorways to business places and do not block the sidewalk. There are numerous inconspicuous places where bicycles may be parked.

(3) Always obey the rules of road.

(4) Be a courteous bicycle driver.

Parents and children are encouraged to cooperate in this important area of public safety.

Los Tres Charros At Casa de Mayo

Three Mexican born singers known as the Los Tres Charros, (the three cowboys) have become regular entertainers at the Casa de Mayo in Cucamonga. The trio is composed of Manuel Gonzales, Lirico Espinoza and Luis Abundia, all self taught guitarists and singers.

Gonzales was born in Sonora and learned to play the guitar at 11. For a time he performed with a group known as the Gonzales Brothers at hotels, parties and on radio in Arizona.

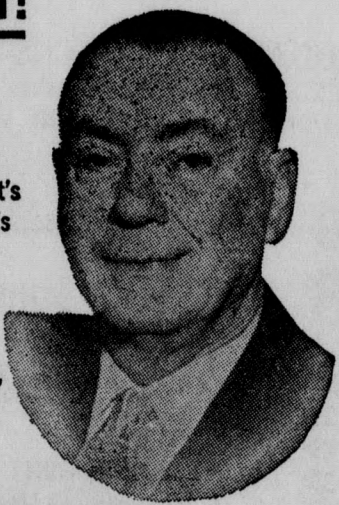

Espinoza was born in Chihuahua and learned to play at 17. He came to California in 1952. He is the group's soloist.

Abundia was born in Guadalajara. He is an expert at various Mexican and Indian dances. He joined the Padua Hills staff on a two-year contract which was extended to six. Writing his first song at 15 before he knew how to play the guitar, Abundia now has 20 songs to his credit, the latest "Amor de Mi Vida."

The Casa de Mayo is located at 8689 Ninth Street, Cucamonga and is open seven days each week under the management of Jay Rodriguez.

THE SECRET INGREDIENT IN OUR FRIED CHICKEN...IS CHAS. EATON!

You may think our fried chicken is so delicious because it's dipped in seasoned rice flour before frying. You're right. But it's also because Chas. Eaton is a cantankerous, stubborn, old-fashioned owner who insists on quality in everything we do. He's absolutely impossible, but you should taste what a difference it makes in the food!

The Profit Story

One of the most persistent and dangerous of popular illusions has to do with business profits. Great numbers of people think they are far larger than they actually are. Now the true story is told in a booklet issued by the Department of Commerce. Here are a few salient facts: Between 1951 and 1961, compensation of employees increased 68 per cent — from $180 billion to $302 billion. In those same years, profits increased only 12 per cent. That isn't all. In 1961, the corporate profit of $46 billion was subjected to a $22 billion income tax, reducing it to $24 billion.

And even this was not the end. The part of that $24 billion which was distributed to the owners of enterprise in the form of dividends was liable for the individual income tax, at rates ranging up to 91 per cent.

It's hard to see how anyone can argue that profits — which simply amount to a form of payment for the capital that provides the tools that keep America at work — are excessive. And it's a safe bet that we'll hear much less of that empty argument once the facts become better known.

The Reason Why

The drug industry, for the first time in 25 years, is fighting back against certain new government regulations. It is fighting because in its view these regulations — which involve pre-censoring of advertising copy and forced and confusing repetition of generic names for drugs in labeling and advertising — involve powers Congress never intended to grant, and, also, because it believes they are injurious from the public health and service standpoint.

It is highly significant that two of the organizations most deeply concerned with public health — the American Medical Association and the Academy of General Practice — have joined the industry in its protest. For the regulations concerned could serve no legitimate need, and would undermine the honest interests of an industry whose contributions to the physical and mental well-being of the American people are literally immeasurable.

It is most important that the reasons behind the industry's actions — in which all the major producers share — be generally understood. This is not the beginning of a declared war upon the Food and Drug Administration or any other governmental body. The industry has always cooperated with the FDA in efforts to improve its standards and services and it always will. It believes in sound and effective regulation which benefits all concerned. But it is duty bound, by its obligations to the public, to ring the alarm when steps are taken that it knows to be unrealistic, unworkable, and unwise.

This is why the industry has brought a suit in a federal court against imposition of the new regulations by the FDA. All it wants is a rule of reason — and the continued right to forge ahead, without unnecessary hindrance, in its invaluable work.

Lincoln's 'Few Remarks'

Most of us grow up believing that President Lincoln made his great speech at Gettysburg with little or no preparation; that on the train he jotted a few notes on an envelop or a scrap of paper. Many also believe that newspapers ignored the speech.

These beliefs are explored and exploded in a magazine article, "A Few Appropriate Remarks" at Gettysburg," by Tom Mahoney in an American Legion Magazine article condensed in the November Reader's Digest. Neither belief is correct.

All who have trouble finding the right words can take comfort in knowing that President Lincoln worked at intervals for more than two weeks on the 10 immortal sentences that he spoke 100 years ago this November 19. He wrote half of them in Washington, completed a draft the night before in Gettysburg and finished another the next day just before going to the battlefield.

He changed "this we may in all propriety do" to the more forceful "it is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this." He made changes even as he spoke, forgetting "poor" in "our poor power" and adding "under God" for a total of 270 words. Of these 190 are one syllable. He spoke less than five minutes.

Newspapermen can take pride in the fact that an Associated Press reporter stood just in front of Lincoln, borrowed copy that he held in his hand and telegraphed the complete text all over the country. Many papers, big and little, published the speech in full the next day.

Shall We Join the Ladies?

Westward the course of empire; and single men. As if California didn't already have ample attractions, the State Department of Finance now has predicted that by 1980 there will be about 538,000 more women than men in the Golden State.

True, the girls will be a little older, on the average, than today's feminine population. About 1½ years, according to the state experts. But that shouldn't bother any eager young man. Seventeen years is just about the normal time for a woman to age 18 months in any state.

By H. V. Witty

This is the second in a series of three articles on The Fund for the Republic. Perhaps we should give America back to the Indians! At least Geronimo knew his enemy. We seem to be unable to recognize ours. This confusion stems from a lack of understanding of the difference between constructive clarification and destructive propaganda. We seem to be fast becoming a nation so taken in by a false banner of clarification that we completely fail to recognize it as a completely false propaganda. This is why we are being influenced every day, both politically and socially, by such organizations as the Communist Party and the more subtle Fund For the Republic (alias The Center For the Study of Democratic Institutions).

If the true object of the Fund were clarification, as its president contends, then education would most certainly be its modus operandi. However, if liberal propaganda were its objective, then its method would be the application of the Pavlovian theory of the conditioned reflex whereby an "elite" can direct all economic and social activities and condition the behavior of all individuals as Pavlov manipulated dogs.

Quoting from an article appearing in the Los Angeles Times on November 4, 1963, Mr. Hutchins, president of the Fund For the Republic, has this to say concerning education: "I would like to propose two new laws. The first would forbid any person to offer education as the 'solution' for anything. The second would prohibit anybody from using the word 'education' without saying what he meant by it."

In ridiculing those of us who are so utterly stupid as to entertain the thought that education by means of clarification might possibly aid in protecting individual freedom and solving our political, economic, and social problems of today, Hutchins proclaims: "All they can mean is that if all of us everywhere were very much wiser and more intelligent than we are, we would probably get on somewhat better than we do. This is so obvious a truism as to amount to saying nothing at all."

The Fund president is impatient. He says that in the developing countries, it would take an educational program of at least 20 years to even begin to solve their problems.

Mr. Hutchins concludes by saying: "But the time education takes is a reason for refusing to believe that it can be the 'solution' of immediate problems. After all if you want shade this afternoon you don't plant a tree that takes 200 years — or even 20 to reach maturity."

No, Mr. Hutchins, if we want shade this afternoon, we would not plant a tree that would take 20 years to produce the desired result. However, neither should we plant a seed which would by the next morning produce a beanstalk, the abode of a pavlovian giant who would enslave us for the next thousand years.

The Fund for the Republic and its president obviously believe that the immediate solution is the development, through propaganda camouflaged as clarification, of a mass conditioned behavior. In other words, don't educate the people to think for themselves as individuals — rather, manipulate and control them like Pavlov controlled his dogs!

In substantiating grounds for an investigation of the Ford Foundation, which is the parent organization of the Fund for the Republic, the Dodd report of the Special Committee of the House of Representatives to investigate tax-exempt foundations in 1953-54, states on page 15: "It seems incredible that the trustees of typically American fortune — created foundations should have permitted them to be used to finance ideas and practices incompatible with the fundamental concepts of our Constitution."

In discussing the propaganda aspects of the Ford Foundation, the Dodd report points out: "The first example is a pamphlet in which the Declaration of Independence is discussed as though its importance lay in the fact that it had raised two, as yet unanswered, questions: 1. Are men equal? 2. What does this equality? 3. What constitutes the consent of the governed?" and what does this phrase imply in practice?

"By inference the first question is subtly answered in the negative. By direct statement, the second is explained as submitting to majority rule — but the restriction of the majority by the Constitution is not mentioned. Only an abridged version of the Declaration is printed. It is interesting that this should omit the list of grievances which originally made the general concept of this Document reasonable."

And the members of the "child" organization of the Ford Foundation — namely, The Fund for the Republic, blatantly proclaim that their group "was established to defend and advance the principles of the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, and the Bill of Rights." Don't you believe it!

The search for an alternate swimming pool site is on again. The possibilities of constructing a plunge on City waterland has been ruled out. The search will continue, however, and with it additional attention to beautification of City waterland.

The first robbery in 32 years of Sierra Madre history was reported by Harold R. Roberts of Robert's Market. $4624 was stolen by two Halloween masked armed bandits. The days receipts as well as 100 meat charge tickets were taken. Mr. Roberts is pleased to report, however, that no one was injured, he believes he is covered by insurance for the loss, and his customers have been most helpful — they saved their meat charge tickets!

A reunion dinner of the Historical society was attended by 150. L. C. Musselman, explorer and self-styled soldier of fortune recounted many exciting experiences in his extensive travels with Admiral Richard E. Byrd. His attentive audience included many residents who came to Sierra Madre prior to 1910.

A meat advertisement in a local chain market had the following announcement: "At the present time we have plenty of meat of all kinds. Brown stamps from Ration Book No. 3 are good as follows — J from Nov. 7 to Dec. 4, inclusive."

Today's editorial begins "America is celebrating Armistice Day today..." Its title: "No Armistice." Sierra Madre observes the Armistice of 25 years ago and its residents actively participate in hastening the next, hopefully an unconditional surrender.

Some headlines: "Mutual Aid Defense Test Scheduled," "With Sierra Madre Boys in Service," "Local Girl (missionary nurse) Held Prisoner in Manila 23 Months en Route Home," "Waste Paper Drive School Pupils Answer to U.S. Plea for Needed Supplies," "City's Blood Quota Met Seventh Time."

Ex-President and Mrs. Herbert Hoover spent a quiet weekend in Sierra Madre with their son, Herbert Hoover Jr., and family. All the Hoovers attended the Stanford-U.S.C. game on Saturday.

Activity in the horse racing game this week pointed definitely to the completion of the track started originally by Joseph Smoot on the Baldwin Ranch, adjacent to Sierra Madre. Hal Roach, H. O. Comstock and James Rolph, III have formed a new alliance, and it appears the cry will soon be heard — "They're Off!"

Local chain market prices attracted bargain buyers. Butter 24c per pound, coffee 23c 1 lb. tin, prime rib roast 17c per lb. (or, if you didn't want to splurge) pot roast 9c per lb.

Santa Anita Fountain Gets New Look

A major renovation is now being made to Santa Anita's Kingsbury Memorial Fountain, providing new beauty and elegance to the prominent landmark in the pad-dock gardens.

This will be the first alteration of the fountain since its construction 25 years ago for the 1938-1939 racing season. It is dedicated to the memory of the late Kenneth R. Kingsbury, president of the Standard Oil Company and a member of Santa Anita's board of directors when the race track was founded in 1934.

The central portion of the fountain is being altered, with a group of cherubic figures to occupy the pedestal which formerly upheld a reflecting globe. The fountain will be in complete operation, displaying its "new look," when the 1963-64 racing season gets under way on Thursday, Dec. 26.

At the base of the fountain are carried the names of the early winners of the Santa Anita Handicap and Santa Anita Derby.

Under Editorial Chat concerning women smoking: "But if they were to be caught smoking, ye gods, what a scandal would be stirred up! To be sure, there is plenty of smoking among women, but it is done rather secretly, which only goes to show how clearly the distinction is drawn between the sexes."

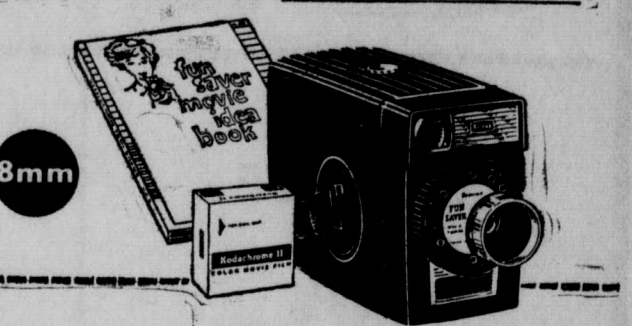

November 14, 1913

President Tarr of the Board of Trade asked for discussion of the sidewalk situation in Sierra Madre. It was the general feeling that, although sidewalks would definitely improve the appearance of the city, it would be better to wait until private as opposed to business interest. It was moved and voted on, however, that all sidewalks on improved streets be brought to grade and made passable.
